LOSES LIMBS AND LIFE WHEN HE ATTEMPTS TO JUMP TRAIN

Henry Sheets, of Fayette City, Dies at Local Hospital Soon After Accident

LEGS CRUSHED AND MANGLED

Hang By Slender Thread at Knees—Body Removed to Fayette City After Being Viewed Here by the Deputy Coroner.

From injuries received when he attempted to board a moving freight train of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad near the Fayette City station Henry Sheets, aged 25 years of Fayette City died at 4:07 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital. Both legs were so crushed and mangled that they hung by slender threads from the knees. A hip was also much crushed.

It is told that Sheets, who was a miner employed at Arnold No. 2 mine started toward the train, but was warned not to try to board it. He persisted and failed to make the jump when he tried and fell underneath. The wheels of the car passed over both limbs. The accident happened at 2:10 o'clock.

Doctors were immediately called and he was started by special train to the McKeesport hospital. Realizing his condition a stop was made at the Monessen end of the Charleroi-Monessen bridge and he was hurried to the local hospital, where he lived only a short time after being entered. His wife was by his side at his death.

Sheets belonged to a well known family of Fayette City. Besides his wife, two small children aged about two and three years survive. His parents are also living. He was a nephew of Henry Sheets of Charleroi. The body was viewed by Deputy Coroner Lawrence B. Frye of Charleroi and removed to Fayette City, where funeral services will be arranged.

The report at Finleyville is current that the Cincinnati and the Nottingham mines of the Pittsburgh Coal company will be combined and operated as River Coal combine mines starting operations jointly May 1. Both mines have been closed since last spring. The Nottingham mine has an opening at Hackett and ships by the B. & O., while the Cincinnati mine delivers all its output by river, though it has an opening for miners to enter at Mingo.

TWO AUTOISTS GIVEN HEARING

One Alleged Violator From Monessen, the Other From Bentleyville

BOTH WIN THEIR DISCHARGE

Two automobile drivers, one from Monessen and the other from Charleroi, were hauled before the Burgess Monday charged with law violations in the driving of their cars. Both were discharged, according to the custom with the information ringing in their ears that if their offense were repeated, a stiff fine would be imposed.

D. R. Duvall, president of council was forced to hear one case, that of J. J. Kilroy of Monessen, because of the inability of Burgess Woodward to be present at the time the case was called. Mr. Kilroy talked very nicely and promised to obey to the letter the mandates of the law.

Mr. Newlon was given his hearing by Burgess Woodward. He was charged with not blowing his horn at a corner.

Program of Interest to Uncle Sam's Postal Men is Taken Up—Next Meeting to be Held in Greensburg

The regular April meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Postmasters' Association is being held today at the Charleroi Federal building, with about 30 of the 50 members present. Two talks were given at the opening session, one by Assistant Postmaster Edward S. Delaney, of Brownsville on the subject, "Postal Changes Desirable," and the other by Postmaster Fred E. Obley, of West Newton on "Why Should Third and Fourth Class Mail be Combined." There was a general discussion until 12:30 o'clock, when lunch was taken at the Hotel Monier.

This afternoon a good program of talks of interest to the postmasters is being carried out. Mrs. L. W. Weaver of Republic is serving as secretary.

Seven new members of the association were received this morning, some of them having taken office but lately. New members received were Dr. J. K. Smith, postmaster at Charleroi; A. L. Wentzel of Webster; W. H. Hartman of Bentleyville; J. E. Conesworth of California; Robert M. McCarty of McDonald and John A. Robinson of Brownsville. Miss Emily Arrison, assistant postmaster of the Charleroi postoffice was received as an honorary member.

All Western Pennsylvania is included in the territory represented by the association and new members are being received at practically every meeting. The association was formed last fall, with the object being the betterment of the postal service. John M. Zimmerman, of Greensburg, is president, Fred E. Obley, of West Newton, treasurer, John C. Shields of Irwin, secretary and W. D. McGinnis of Connellsville vice president. The next meeting will be held May 11 at Greensburg.

HEROIC SWIMMER SAVES GIRL'S EASTER BONNET

Belle Vernon Youth Goes Into Water's Or Monongahela to Rescue Floating Millinery and is Rewarded by Sweet "Thank-You" and Smile.

A fair lady and a new spring hat are responsible for a heroic plunge into the chilling waters of the Monongahela at Belle Vernon late Sunday afternoon. The story is to the effect that "Six" Gilmore was standing at the approach of the Belle Vernon side of the river about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, while a young lady whose name was not learned was crossing the bridge toward the same side of the river. As she reached the second pier a sharp wind struck up and blew her hat into the river. "Six" stood there for a second and watched the hat light and in another second he was down at the water's edge. He stripped himself of collar, coat, vest and trousers and plunged into the cold waters and started to swim in the direction of the hat. He took powerful strokes and the waves fairly rippled on each side of the daring swimmer. People rushed to the shore to see what the outcome would be.

When the swimmer reached the second pier the hat had moved down stream, but "Six" was not daunted by distance. The girl stood on the bridge above when "Six" looked up she urged him on and soon he had the hat in his mouth and was swimming back to shore. Lighting upon the sands half fatigued and half frozen the young man held the hat high in the air and amid shouts and cheers, he dressed and delivered the captured article to its owner. She smiled complacently, thanked the hero of the hour, bowed and left.

Young Gilmore is said to be about 19 years of age and of a daring make-up. He has defied the waves several times and flirted with the deep waters of the Monongahela. During the high waters of a recent flood it is said he dropped from the railroad bridge into the river and swam to shore.

MEADOWLANDS MINE IS PLACED IN OPERATION

United Coal Company Gets Large Orders For Coal Shipments and Miners Get Work Who Had Been Out of Employment Long Time.

The mine of the United Coal company located at Meadowlands began operation in full this morning. Large orders have been received for lake shipments. During the past few months the mine has been operated about three and four days a week and with only one-half the plant in active operation. The 400 men who were kept at work during the winter did not find steady work but with full restoration these men will be given steady employment. The prospects are good for active work throughout the summer.

All the mines in the Chartiers valley have promise of renewed activity. The Arden mine No. 1 which has been closed down since December 28 when the tippie was burned will likely resume operations soon. Work has been started toward rebuilding the tippie and the company hopes to have it completed and ready to resume full operations the latter part of June. All the debris caused by the fire has been hauled away and everything is in shape to erect the tippie. The concrete abutments have been placed and several carloads of steel for the tippie have arrived from the Penn-Bridge company. This mine was employing about 300 men and operating in full when the tippie was destroyed.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILLS PASS THE HOUSE

The administration workmen's compensation bills, seven in number passed the house Monday night with three dissenting votes against the principal bills.

When the bills were considered that night no fight was made by the opponents who tried on second reading to amend the bill to exempt employers of five or less persons. The vote was taken without debate.

Monessen Feels Effect of Good Business Wave—Shopping on Two Days Said to be Heavy.

Old time prosperity has invaded Monessen, according to report from that steel town. The pay was large, and thousands of dollars were put in circulation. Much shopping was done. The mills are running in good shape there.

Both Saturday and Monday appeared to be good shopping days in Charleroi, which is a popular gathering place for valley crowds. The starting of valley industries has brought about the evidences of a return of prosperity.

VALLEY LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

Several Towns Interested in the Formation of a Strong Circuit This Year

MEETING TO BE CALLED SOON

A movement is on foot for the reorganization of the Monongahela Valley league and plans are being made to call a meeting in the near future to take up the matter.

The circuit this year will be selected from the following towns: New Eagle, Monessen, Belle Vernon, Charleroi, Roscoe, Bentleyville, Ellsworth, California, Brownsville, Finleyville and Donora.

Those who have been approached about the matter are enthusiastic about the prospects of a league, and it is believed that a substantial organization can be formed. Charleroi is in good shape with Walter Urber and H. L. Swickey working together. It is asserted the same applies to the other teams. At New Eagle Joe Abbott is working up sentiment. He is a brother of Ody Abbott, a Pacific coast star.

Trip to Michigan by County Officials to be Fruitful of Results

LOOK BETTER THAN BRICK

Believed That Highways Made According to Plan Followed in Western State Will Be More Lasting Than the Kind Known Here.

The county commissioners will put before the next grand jury the proposition to construct certain roads of the county of concrete instead of brick.

The three commissioners the controller and county engineer, George Canney, returned Saturday from an inspection trip through Wayne county, Mich., where concrete roads were seen. The commissioners had made a trip over some of these roads once before when they were first put down. On this trip they saw concrete roads six years old, some three years old, some two and some one. In their opinion concrete roads can be built at less cost and are more durable than brick.

The same material goes into the concrete road from the base to the bottom. There is not a base of one kind and a top of another kind, but it is solid concrete construction from the sub-grade to the top. They are not affected by the weather, being erected with proper drainage thereunder. The commissioners are convinced that concrete roads are the proper roads for highways, where the grade is good, and not too steep.

The upkeep of them is much less than the brick road. To properly construct a brick road it must be laid on a concrete base, so that the big expense begins when the bricks are put down. There is also the expense of putting in the concrete curb. With concrete a 16-foot highway, it is stated, can be built cheaper than a brick road of lesser width.

The commissioners found the oldest of the concrete roads they drove over in good shape and with very little repair having to be made on them. The wear on them does not affect the surface. It has been found that with brick roads, where heavy trucks drives over them, that the bricks soon get sunken down or corner stick up. They are affected by weather conditions and bulge.

Wayne county has and is constructing many miles of concrete roads. If the grand jury approves the concrete construction the roads to be built this summer will be built of this material. Of the seven miles proposed to be built this summer, by using concrete, an additional half mile of road can be built.

THE UNIVERSAL PIPPLE

Coffee and tea are the two beverages used almost universally by the adult population throughout the civilized and semi-civilized world, says the state health commissioner.

It is impossible to say how many tens of millions of dollars are expended upon them annually. Although their use has steadily increased they might be discontinued by the multitudes who have formed the habit without the loss of any benefit and to the majority of cases abstinence would result in distinct physical gain.

Neither coffee or tea are to be considered foods. Both are stimulants and it is this which is responsible for their popularity. As with all other stimulants there is a continual tendency to over indulge because a moderate allowance after a time fails to give the necessary excitement to the nervous system.

While the mind is often stimulated to good work for a short time by coffee or tea any stimulus which they give is transitory for there is a period of depression following the use of all stimulants. Experiments have shown that over indulgence in both have a tendency in the long run to dull the working of the mind.

A moderate use may not be followed by any noticeable ill effect but nervousness and disturbances of the digestive system is almost certain to follow the excessive use of either. Tea has an astringent action which is often harmful.

Any value which might follow from the use of a warm beverage with meals, where the majority of the food is below the body temperature, is probably offset by this action. Hot water or the "lambic tea" (hot water, whole milk and sugar) of our childhood days is far better.

Many people rely upon coffee and tea almost entirely as beverages and fail to drink the proper quantity of pure water.

OPEN SEASON FOR STORMS.

It seems every spring and summer the country has to suffer a certain number of destructive storms and a glance at records proves they do not vary much in number or intensity.

The season has opened. Sunday's storm, which wrecked havoc in certain points, was the first. As disastrous as it is, this community and other communities will have to suffer others. Before the summer is over and the chilling winds of autumn have been felt, we will have read of disasters here and there through the temperate zone and sympathized with the sufferers, realizing but for the kind-to-us dispensation of fate, we would have been they. And we can never tell, we may be they before the season for destructive disturbances is over.

There appears to be little in the way of protection possible. It is a sort of accept-and-abide-by-the-consequences affair with us. We don't run the weather and never will, and simply have to take it out in hoping we don't get hit and unselfishly hoping the same thing for everybody else.

NEW BOUNTY LAW STOPS PAYMENTS OF BOUNTIES

Governor Brumbaugh's Signature of Bills Stops Further Remuneration—Provisions of the Bill Are Defined.

No more bounty claims will be paid by the county. A new bounty law was passed by this legislature and the bill was signed by Governor Brumbaugh last Friday.

The new bounty law provides that the salaried game protectors may take bounty affidavits without fee from those persons who appear in person, and may mark the pelts in such cases, or the claimant may appear before a justice to make the necessary affidavit; but in the latter case the pelt and affidavit must be sent to the game commission at Harrisburg before the claim can be honored. The game commission will mark the pelt and return it with the county check to the claimant.

It will not be so easy hereafter to secure bounty. As it has been, an affidavit was made before any justice of the peace, who was paid by the state through the county for making such affidavit. Upon presentation of the affidavit to the county the bounty was paid. The state, upon a return from the county, reimbursed the county the sum paid out for bounties and affidavits.

The new law relieves the justice of the peace from any responsibility in approving claims, against repealing on pelts, makes certain that only proper pelts will be paid for and relieves the counties from the necessity of advancing large sums of money, waiting two years for reimbursement and then losing money because some claims prove fraudulent.

The game protection of the state have been uncovering a most amazing and wide-spread conspiracy to defraud the state through the old bounty law. The threatened exposures in Beaver and Lebanon counties, the ramifications of the Northern weasel fraud plot in Jefferson, Elk and other northern counties, have begun to come to light. In less than ten days frauds of more than $10,000 have been uncovered, and further revelations are to come. All hawks have been cut off the bounty list, as it was found that neither the men who were killing them or the justices knew what kind of hawks were being killed. Hundreds of bounty claims were paid on chickens and turkey heads.

There is due this county from the state on bounties paid since last December, when this county paid its first bounties, about $3,000. There is a bill already in at Harrisburg for $2,050, with about $900 yet to be sent in.

Edwina's Electrical Storms.

Ordinary to the popular topographical formation of Bolivia, electric and other phenomena of constant occurrence.

The principal zone where such disturbances take place being the Altiplano, or grand plateau. As the atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity both in summer and winter, dry or electric storms are of frequent occurrence both on the plateau and in the valleys. Before the rainy season sets in electrical accumulation becomes considerable on the plateau region. Its most violent manifestations taking place toward the eastern section of the altiplano. An electrical storm in these regions is always a most impressive spectacle as the tremendous force of the wind, almost equal to a hurricane, and the heavy electrical accumulation in the clouds produce terrible atmospheric explosions and violent detonations, while the surface of the ground sparkles and crackles.

Scattered.

Pat was employed on an engineering job a few miles out of the city and was carried to his work by an express train, which accommodately slowed up near the scene of his labors. One morning, however, the train rushed through the cut without reducing speed, and the superintendent of the job looked in vain for Pat. At last he saw a much battered fishman limping back down the ties and called to him: "Hello, Pat! Where did you get off?" Pat turned stuffy and, waving his hand toward the steep embankment sighed: "Oh, all along here!"—Life.

LEGISLATURE ON ITS FINAL LAP

Resolution Calls For Session to End in Three Weeks.

MAY EXTEND TIME TO JUNE 1

All Depends Upon the Progress of Big Legislation, Such as Child Labor and Workmen's Compensation. Local Option Scheduled to Come Up in the House Next Week.

Harrisburg, April 13.—If the resolution passed by the house some time ago fixing May 5 as the day of adjournment is adopted by the senate, but three more weeks of the 1915 session remains. In some quarters there is great doubt as to whether the upper branch will see its way clear to put through the resolution. Already a movement is on to extend the adjournment time to June 1, but this effort has not gained anything like enough support to justify the statement that the legislature will go beyond the day and hour fixed by the house. It all depends upon the progress made in putting through the appropriation bills and the so-called big pieces of legislation, such as workmen's compensation and child labor regulations.

Five hundred and seventeen bills have been introduced in the house and about one-third that number in the senate. No more bills will be received by the house unless unanimous consent is given. The senate has not yet fixed the last day to introduce measures.

Two of the big bills, through the house and now under consideration by senate committees are those dealing with workmen's compensation and child labor. Efforts to have each amended on the floor of the house failed by a narrow margin. A hard battle was waged to have the hours in the child labor bill increased from fifty-one to fifty-four a week, but the governor won out with ten votes to spare.

Contrary to expectations, local option will not be considered this week by the house. It will come out of committee in a day or so and be reached on the second and third reading calendars probably on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The bill will be made a special order, so that every member will have ample notice of the exact time of its consideration. This will prevent dodging by legislators who may now be carrying liquor on one shoulder and water on the other.

HORSE RACING BILL

Senator Catlin Wants Pennsylvania to Have Harness and Running Races on Big Scale.

Harrisburg, April 13.—Senator Catlin, of Luzerne, the owner of a string of race horses and a private race track on his farm in the city of Wilkes-Barre, is back of a bill creating a state commission to regulate running and harness racing and providing for betting on pari-mutuel machines.

A commission of five persons would have charge of all racing in Pennsylvania, with the exception of state and county fairs, conducted for not more than six days. The act does not apply to racing at such fairs.

Five per cent of the gross receipts of the pools are to go to hospitals and an additional five per cent for improving the roads in the counties where the meets are conducted. The law would mean $500,000 revenue for hospitals and roads, according to Senator Catlin. He also says that it would be the means of improving the breed of horses, and for that reason expects support from the agricultural sections.

GAME CODE THROUGH SENATE

Prohibiting Sale of Rabbits Killed in State Feature of New Bill.

Harrisburg, April 13.—By almost unanimous vote the senate passed the house game code bill, which makes some changes in the present hunting laws, was passed finally by the senate. It goes back to the house for concurrence in senate amendments. The chief feature of the bill is that it prohibits the sale of rabbits that were killed in this state. The bill limits the number of ring-necked pheasants that may be killed and also restricts the season.

WILL PREVENT FUSION

Bills of Republican Party Pass Senate With Many Votes to Spare.

Harrisburg, April 13.—Few votes were cast against the election bills prepared by the Republican organization when they came up for consideration in the senate. One of these bills prohibits a man resigning from a ticket when once nominated. This will prevent the fusion of the smaller parties against the Republican.

A companion bill to the above requires proposed new political parties to be organized before the primary election. Another bill that went through the senate gives the Republican party first place on the ballot. At present the position of a party on a ballot is determined by the result of the presidential election. The bill agreed to by the senate fixes the position by the result on either the gubernatorial or the presidential election. If the bill becomes a law the Republican party will take first place on the ballot next November.

The provision to permit voters to indicate their presidential preference will be stricken out of the law, according to one of the other bills, together with a bill for the rejection of nomination papers of any candidate where the signatures are not found genuine as to membership in parties.

IS YOUR INCOME OVER $10,000?

Maurer, of Berks, Would Have You Pay All Over That Amount to State For Unemployed.

Harrisburg, April 13.—It would not be possible for any Pennsylvanian to have an income in excess of $10,000 a year if a bill put in the house by Maurer, of Berks, becomes a law. Mr. Maurer is the only Socialist in the legislature.

It provides an income tax on a graduated scale, beginning at $2000 a year. A man enjoying that income must pay 1 per cent; $3000 to $4000, 3 per cent; $4000 to $5000, 5 per cent, and so on until the man having $20,000 a year is paying 50 per cent income tax.

Persons with incomes over $20,000 must pay all of their income in excess of $10,000 to the state. A heavy penalty is provided for refusal to pay the tax or for making incorrect returns.

The proceeds of the tax are to go toward the keep of the unemployed in times of industrial depression. The bill entrusts the department of labor and industry with the administration of the bill and makes the auditor general levy the tax.

STATE CAPITOL NOTES

Items of Interest Picked Up About Halls of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Harrisburg, April 13.—The latest mothers' pension bill excludes alien mothers. Many legislators are opposed to this discrimination.

Former President Taft will address the legislature on Thursday afternoon of this week in the hall of the house.

The anthracite operators and miners have reached a compromise on the Catlin bill, and it will now go through, probably without further opposition. According to its provisions the miners will come under the workmen's compensation law.

There is a strong sentiment in the house for the repeal of the 1913 cold storage law. It has hit both the consumer and the farmer. The only interests that have benefitted are the Chicago packers and the cold storage houses in New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

A bill, sponsored by Lipschutz, of Philadelphia, would increase automobile registration fees about 100 per cent. The receipts would be used for highway development. The fee on a motor cycle would be $5, and motor vehicles $10 to $40, according to the horsepower.

Members of the legislature from the anthracite counties are opposed to the governor's plan to give the state two-thirds of the revenue collected on anthracite coal. They claim they are entitled to at least one-half of this tax and will fight for an amendment to that effect.

The house dropped from the calendar the Sensesch bill requiring judges to decide cases within nine months. It was shown that an act of such a character would impose a hardship upon many judges, especially those of the Dauphin court, which hears actions from all over the state.

On the ground that the amount appropriated in the bill was not sufficient to meet the claims of the news papers, Governor Brumbaugh last week vetoed the Hagood measure that called for the state to pay its just debts. This action met with such disapproval in the house that no less than 103 representatives voted to pass the bill over the governor's head.

As legislators look into the merits of the publishers' claims they become more and more convinced that the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania should specify settle these accounts. The opinion prevails that it is just as bad to cheat newspaper owners out of what legally belongs to them as it would be to cheat or steal in any other way.

Slitting a Pen.

The center slit in a pen is cut by a machine which seems almost to think it consists of two chisels which barely pass each other when the slit is made and the exact way in which the pen is used so as to place the chisels in the proper position for cutting is one of the marvels of penmanship.

Attire to Suit.

"The cashier and his bride were certainly appropriately dressed for their wedding."
"How so?"
"She wore a changeable silk, and he had on a check suit."—Baltimore American.

People of the World.

According to an Italian every person in the world can stand comfortably in an area of one square mile, while a graveyard about the size of Colorado would bury all of them.

TRADING STAMP BILL WINS IN STATE HOUSE

Household Collection Struck Hard Blow by Measure Which Passes At Harrisburg—Contains Provisions Almost Prohibitive.

A blow was struck at the popular household industry of collecting trading stamps in the state House of representatives when by a vote of 146 to 17, the Walton bill heavily licensing trading stamp companies was finally passed. Representative Palmer of Schuylkill, spoke in opposition to the bill, but the sponsor, Walton, of Lawrence announced to the house that Mr. Palmer had a particular friend who was interested in trading stamps.

Palmer made the point that the license was so high that it would virtually drive trading stamp companies out of business. The bill provides for county licenses for trading stamp concerns which are to pay $1,000 annually and merchants handling stamps $150, three-fourths of the proceeds to be retained by the county for use in maintenance of roads and bridges and the remainder to be sent to the state treasury.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous food matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness. And within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.
